Writing Assistance

The Writing Center, located at 411 Lafayette Street, 3rd floor, is staffed by trained consultants who will assist you in improving your writing skills. They will help find a way to say what you want to say, and revise what you have already written. Come prepared. Bring your question and the assignment or prompt. Writing consultants will work with you on a one-to-one basis, providing feedback, suggestions, information, advice, and encouragement. Any student currently enrolled at NYU is eligible to use the Writing Center. No first-time appointments are given over the phone. Students are requested to make their first appointment in person by going directly to the Writing Center. For information call (212) 998-8866.
